News Papers Clipping Summaries from Business Line, Business Standard and The Economic Times (21-02-2026)

1.The article argues that while India is investing heavily in AI and showcasing its ambitions, events like the AI Impact Summit exposed issues of poor organisation and questionable claims.

It warns investors and policymakers to exercise caution, as hype, inflated projects, and misleading innovations can damage trust in India's AI ecosystem.

https://ibb.co/TDqWJrzT

India's MoSPI Secretary called for a trusted, federated global AI infrastructure that enables shared datasets, interoperability, and inclusive access to large language models.

He emphasized co-creation, data accountability, and global standards to ensure governments, institutions, smaller players, and consumers actively participate in AI development.

https://ibb.co/gqJfND4

3. TCS CEO K Krithivasan said AI will not cause a significant shrinkage in software engineering jobs, dismissing fears that large language models will replace engineers.

Industry leaders added that AI presents major growth opportunities, especially in AI engineering, system integration, and modernisation services.

https://ibb.co/ccGC9J5x

4. All major AI-focused countries have agreed to sign the New Delhi Declaration at the AI Impact Summit, reflecting broad global consensus on AI safety, innovation, and cooperation.

India also joined the US-led 'Pax Silica' initiative to strengthen AI collaboration and secure critical supply chains.

https://ibb.co/6cN6cyb4

5. Police complaints were filed against Election Commission officials in Bengal over alleged harassment during verification of AI-generated EPIC voter list revisions in Haroa.
The controversy intensified as around 33,000 names were reportedly recommended for deletion in the new constituency, raising concerns over irregularities.

https://ibb.co/fdKxLtVk

6. Indian IT leaders say agentic AI may change job roles but system integrators and IT services firms will remain essential to enterprises.

They stress innovation, governance, and trust as key to navigating AI disruption while maintaining business stability.

https://ibb.co/4n5wtNQG

7. The India AI Impact Summit highlighted growing enterprise ambition around AI, but scaling it into sustainable competitive advantage remains a key challenge.
Experts emphasized sovereign AI infrastructure, integrated cloud platforms, and strong governance as critical to building AI-ready enterprises.

https://ibb.co/7tvQQDcH

8. Mistral AI founder Arthur Mensch says India's open-source focus offers valuable lessons, emphasizing that the global AI ecosystem can learn more from India than teach it.
He advocates scaling AI efficiently like infrastructure, prioritizing efficiency, controlled leverage, and strong returns on invested capital.

https://ibb.co/Dg5r4VqZ

9. Canada's AI Minister Evan Solomon says sovereign AI is about controlling data and infrastructure while building trusted global partnerships, not isolation.
He highlights Canada–India collaboration, ethical governance, and shared standards as key to secure, responsible AI growth.

https://ibb.co/vxJZL2BC