Newspapers Clipping Summaries from Business Line, Business Standard and The Economic Times (24-02-2026)

1. AI-driven tools from companies like Anthropic triggered sharp selloffs in IT and cybersecurity stocks, with some major firms losing 8–9% in a single day.

Analysts warn that beyond boosting productivity, AI is disrupting traditional IT business models and pricing structures, posing deeper risks to the sector's growth.

https://ibb.co/WWz8MCd8

2. OpenAI's COO Brad Lightcap says 2026 will mark the year of mass AI adoption, with India emerging as a key growth market driven by strong user demand and enterprise uptake.

He highlights major investments in infrastructure and deployment, stating that AI is moving beyond experimentation to large-scale business transformation.

https://ibb.co/VcpbXRHX

3. Indian deep-tech startups showcased strong innovation in robotics, mobility, and enterprise AI at the AI Impact Summit, highlighting India's growing role beyond traditional IT services.

Companies like ePlane, Otonomy, Cyringe AI, and Chariot reflect rising investment, product focus, and global ambition in India's AI ecosystem.

https://ibb.co/4RcFhVHF

4. Parminder Singh introduces the "MINE" framework—Meetings, Ideas, News, and Experiments—to help attendees extract real value from AI summits instead of letting insights fade away.

He suggests capturing key contacts and ideas, using AI to summarise takeaways, and committing to one small post-event experiment to turn inspiration into action.

https://ibb.co/wNs4Vchj

5. India's public digital infrastructure like Aadhaar and UPI is being highlighted as a replicable model for scaling AI adoption across the Global South.
The UN's ITU notes that India's blend of government scale, startup speed, academia, and open data ecosystems enables safe and inclusive AI diffusion.

https://ibb.co/wrhSfRBs

6.Business Standard's annual "Manthan" thought summit kicks off in New Delhi, featuring leaders like Nitin Gadkari, Piyush Goyal, and Shivraj Singh Chouhan.
The event will focus on AI investments, national compute initiatives, and mission-mode collaborations to shape a future-ready India.

https://ibb.co/VWMhvrPB

7. The BS Thought Summit begins with top investors and business leaders discussing the impact of AI on markets, data centres, and India's future.
Prominent speakers including Christopher Wood, Nilesh Shah, Amitabh Kant, and Shekhar Kapur will share insights over the two-day event.

https://ibb.co/VY3MfLjq

8. AI's disruptive impact has pushed India's IT and technology services sector into rethink mode at the Nasscom Technology & Leadership Forum 2026 in Mumbai.
Industry leaders are discussing generative AI, shifting business models, cloud investments, and the uncertainties reshaping future growth.

https://ibb.co/5gYwZ09L

9. Agentic AI has become the most sought-after course on upGrad, reflecting strong demand for applied AI skills among working professionals.
The platform is integrating AI across nearly all its programmes, partnering with top institutes and exposing learners to advanced AI tools.

https://ibb.co/JLcvZV3

10. DXC Technology's Joe McAndrew says the firm is optimistic about India and AI, seeing large IT companies co-innovating with industry to drive citizen benefits.

He highlights support for sovereign AI initiatives, campus expansion in India, and strong focus on data protection and regulatory compliance.

https://ibb.co/Mk5Yp8Q8

11. Infosys Finacle CEO Sajit Vijayakumar says AI is making banking technology more affordable and enabling better end-to-end digital journeys for smaller institutions.
AI is driving improvements in customer interactions, product development, and cost efficiency through AI-native and composable banking solutions.

https://ibb.co/ymyLmbs9

12. The article warns that AI represents a cognitive revolution, not just another industrial shift, and urges policymakers and educators to rethink regulation, pedagogy, and workforce readiness.
It also highlights how data centres and GCCs are strengthening India's tech ecosystem, powering AI development, engineering leadership, and cybersecurity for global enterprises.

https://ibb.co/6JHZTbHM